Temple Beth El Sisterhood Presents
"A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Temple!"

Prepare to have an evening filled with laughter, wine and desserts.
Saturday, March 20 at 7:30p.m. in the Max L. Bear Auditorium at Temple Beth El.

Our Temple Members will tickle your funny bone with their musical parodies, under the direction of our very own Co-Sisterhood President, Renee Eilen. Renee presents a comic view of our current headlines. As her husband Steve says, "Laughter is the Best Medicine!" Special guest appearances by our very own Jonathan and Rick! And the comedy team of Chuck & Steve! And many, many more! Tickets are $18.00 payable to Temple Beth El Sisterhood. Proceeds benefit Camp Scholarships. Invite your friends for a fun-filled event.
You won't want to miss this!

Sharsheret

At the October Sisterhood meeting, Lucille Foley reported on a national organization named Sharsheret, the Hebrew word for "chain". Sharsheret's Link Program pairs young Jewish women, newly diagnosed or at an increased risk of developing breast cancer, with volunteers who can share their personal stories and medical experiences. This wonderful organization offers a wealth of information about genetic counseling, family guidance, and issues facing Jewish women. Lucille has materials to share. In addition you can visit them on the web at: www.sharsheret.org or call toll-free (866) 474-2774.

Relay for Life is just around the corner. Become aware of all that is being done to support cancer research so that one day perhaps organizations like Sharsheret will become obsolete. For now we are grateful to have them.

From the Rabbi

Passover – it’s all there!

With Purim behind us, we begin the “countdown” to Passover. Our Jewish calendar offers us times and seasons for celebration and remembrance. Passover is unique among Jewish holidays in that within Passover is nearly everything concerning being Jewish.

Passover retells our history from Egyptian bondage to freedom in the Holy Land, then and now. We hear the texts of our people from its multiple sources – Torah, prophets, writing, the rabbis and modern day poets and commentators. We experience Passover through rite and ritual, symbols and foods.

How is all of what is Jewish found in Passover? A colleague once suggested that if one used Passover as a template one could develop a complete curriculum for Jewish learning – history, prayers, foods, symbols, songs, texts, questions, answers – all of this is found in Passover. For this reason, our celebration and observance of Passover is essential for our children as it is a singular moment when we can convey the essence of Judaism through a family meal and a concise rendering of how we become who we are as Jews.

Resources on Passover are abundant. Go learn, go read and add something more to your family traditions. Whatever you do, do not allow this opportunity to be missed. We read each week of our obligation to “teach our children”. Passover offers a special opportunity to teach our children about who we are, where we have come from and where we are going. Passover is an opportunity to gather with family to mark Passover as a special family event, to note family history within the greater arc of Jewish history.

With Passover, opportunities abound! Everything is in it. Have a happy Passover. With best wishes,

Rabbi Len Zukrow

Shabbat Across America

We encourage guests to join us again for Shabbat worship and an opportunity to learn about Jewish life at Temple Beth El. Shabbat Across America is a national event sponsored by the Jewish Outreach Institute to promote involvement in Jewish congregations across the United States. If you know of someone interested in learning about Judaism, or members who would enjoy an annotated worship service please be sure to have them join us on Friday, March 6 at 6:00 PM.

Weekday Evening Worship

Did you know that there is another opportunity for worship at Temple Beth El? Join us on Wednesday evenings at 6:00 PM when Hebrew school is in session. Perhaps you were not able to join us on a Friday eve and you are marking the yahrzeit of a loved one, you can say Kaddish on Wednesday eve as well. We look forward to seeing you at our Weekday Eve Worship.

Todah Rabbah

Thanks to our confirmation students for their help with Manna Food Pantries Souper Bowl Sunday. Thanks also, to our members for your contributions of food to support Manna and to enable Manna to fulfill its mission to leave no one hungry. The need remains – please support Manna every time you

Marriage Reconsecration

Friday April 2, 7:30 PM
If you are observing a wedding anniversary this year that is a multiple of 5 or 10 (5, 10, 15, 20, etc.) we invite you to participate in our annual Marriage Reconsecration ceremony. We will invite you to stand once again under the chuppah, to renew your vows, to share some wine, break the glass and receive a certificate to mark this event.

Please contact the Temple office if you wish to participate in this year’s Marriage Reconsecration.

From the President

Dear Fellow Congregants,

On January 21st, Rabbi Zukrow asked for authorization to interview for a Rabbinic and Educator's position with congregation Ner Tamid in Las Vegas. He told Alice and myself at the time that it was a wonderful opportunity for him to pursue. I was required to authorize the interview which I did. The Executive Committee and Director of the School for Jewish Living were informed that same evening and we, as a group, decided to keep this information private. Rabbi Zukrow had the interview last week and upon his return he informed me that he had been offered the position. This evening, February 15th, he shared his decision to accept the offer and tendered his written resignation to be effective June 30th of this year. This occurred during our monthly leadership committee meeting.

When Rabbi Zukrow resigned, he reiterated what a wonderful opportunity this new position was for him. He will be part of a larger Jewish community, will work with staff and professional colleagues, and be in an area with 70,000 other Jews. He felt this was the best decision for his Rabbinate and his family.

Rabbi Zukrow wishes the best for us at Temple Beth El and he will continue to do his best during his remaining tenure with us.

I realize that for many of you this is a surprise. It was a shock for Alice and myself when he informed us several weeks ago of the interview. Many in our congregation are very close with Rabbi Zukrow and he has been a very significant part of our lives. Although there is a natural feeling of hurt with his departure, I know that you join me in congratulating him on this achievement and wish him the best as he pursues his professional goals.

We will start the search for a new spiritual leader and we will share more information on this search as it becomes available. The important thing to remember now is that Temple Beth El has been a great community for over a hundred years and will continue to thrive as a community in the future.

Jewish Pensacola Partnership Exploration Committee

Since October 2008, task force committees made of members from both Temple Beth El and Congregation B'nai Israel, have been meeting to explore partnership potentials for the Pensacola Jewish community. To keep you informed of their work, I will highlight the work so far.

The task forces that have been meeting are Education, co-chaired by Wendi Ochs and Celeste Kryz along with Melissa Sontag; Worship co-chaired by Chuck Lisner and Chip Merritt with Vikki Goldstein; Facilities and Campus chaired by Danny Zimmern with Ross Goodman; Finance and Operations co-chaired by Alan Bookman, Stu Weston and Jerry Gordon; Leadership chaired by Bill Zimmern with Brian Sontag; Membership/

Outreach chaired by Alice Klein with Marci Shemeria. Each task force is made up of members from each congregation. All have been meeting and discussing areas of possible collaboration. The goal of each committee is to discover collaborative efforts to engage our members, bring the community together and reach out to the unaffiliated. We have had the good fortune of hiring a consultant from the Alban Institute to help us with this process. Bob Leventhal has been instrumental in guiding the task forces through this process. Bob has traveled to Pensacola for joint meetings of all the committee members.

There is much excitement about the work the committees have been doing. The input has been outstanding and the progress is encouraging. The task forces continue their work and welcome your input. Our next steps include a "Community Conversation" in April. You will receive a letter with the date and time by mid March. At the "Community Conversation" each task force will present their findings, answer any questions and listen to your input. Our consultant will be at this meeting as well.

After the Community Conversation and input has been gathered from the entire community, the task forces will report to the boards. The final approval for any forward steps will reside solely with the members of each congregation.

To summarize, the work begun in October 2008 continues, but we need everyone's input. Please take time to express your concerns and ideas to the Task Force chairs. Above all, when you receive notification of the Community Conversation, plan to attend. There are some exciting possibilities and we are making progress, but ultimately, the decision resides with you.

In the Temple Gift Shop

Tastes of Jewish Tradition invites readers to learn about each holiday, then offers suggestions on how to experience it more fully. There are stories for children, menus and more. I am confident that many will return to this book year after year, providing their families with holiday experiences that are intellectual and emotional, spiritual, dynamic, and very filling.

Review by Rabbi Joseph Telushkin.

This book is available in the Gift Shop.

Sisterhood Notes

Shalom from your very active Sisterhood – lots of good stuff in March!!! March 8 is International Women's Day, and D'vora has arranged for a joint meeting of Temple Beth El and B'nai Israel women at 6:30p.m. (venue undetermined at this printing) – watch for details and come join us!!!

On March 17 we have a lovely sisterhood luncheon, featuring corned beef lunches made by B'nai Israel. We will be ordering them for whomever signs up and pays the cost of $10.00 per lunch, and for those of you who do not wish to "corned beef-it" with us, you can still get a regular lunch for our usual price of $7.00 per person. Watch for e-mails or phone calls giving you more info on how to sign up for whichever lunch you want and where to send your checks for the corned beef sandwiches. Our speaker will talk about "going green" (how appropriate for March 17!!!).

And speaking of luncheons, if you RSVP "yes" to a luncheon and for some last minute reason can't make it, just send in your $7.00 check made payable to "TBE Sisterhood" and we will record it as a donation. We'd appreciate this, since we are ordering lunches based on the number of RSVP's we get, and we have to pay for them. Of course, our first choice is to see you in person!!!

We are looking for a Mitzvah Caring Fund Chairman, so please contact Pat Langnau if you can chair this very important committee. We are also looking for folks to work in our very lovely gift shop on Sunday mornings during school; please contact Marty Lisner if you can give some time there.

Saturday night, March 20 is our long awaited Temple show, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Temple". It is full of humor and fun, and features the Temple Beth El Not Ready for Anytime Players. The evening begins at 7:30p.m. with hors d'ouvres and wine, followed by our show, All proceeds benefit camp scholarships. THIS IS ONE YOU DON'T WANT TO MISS!!!! Cost is $18 per ticket, autographs included!!

And finally, March 29 is our ANNUAL SISTERHOOD SEDER. Details will follow, but save the date. This year your Sisterhood Board will be planning this event together, and if you can volunteer to make hard boiled eggs or charoset, or to put together a seder plate, please contact me and let me know at rmoore40@yahoo.com.

See you at Temple!!

Jonathan L. Kahn Library News

THANK YOU Temple members and "friends of our library" for purchasing seventy duplicate books culled from our over – crowded Temple library bookshelves. Our book sale netted $200.00. The profit will go to buy needed library equipment. The remaining sale books will be donated to the federal prison library in Ft. Walton. Hopefully these books can be useful to any Jewish or non Jewish prisoner in need of aid or comfort. Now that we have extra shelf space, we can update our library with American Jewish Library recommended books, magazines, Jewish themed music and story CD's, and movies to watch at home or at Religion School. Our ultimate plan is to make your library an exciting, vibrant place to visit.

Kitchen Kibbitz by Janet Schilling

With all the cold weather we have experienced recently, it is difficult to think of Passover barely a month away. And while at this writing, I have not even made a hamentaschen, I have decided to jump ahead and find a great matzoh ball recipe.

Joan Nathan's Jewish Holiday Cookbook has a wonderful and very basic recipe for matzah balls. It is simple and to the point. She says that while she was researching recipes for this collection she spoke to residents of the Hebrew Home for the Aged in Rockville, Maryland. Everyone had their own method for preparing matzah balls. Some separated the eggs, others added a spice or ground almonds, and opinions differed on the amount of fat and the type of fat to use. In my family, matzah balls were categorized as sinkers or floaters. We preferred the floaters, but never turned down a sinker! The texture may differ, but the taste is always unmistakably matzah ball! Joan Nathan has decided after much experimentation that the proportion of fat to eggs plus the cooking time will lead to one or the other texture-wise. All I know is Passover is a month away and I can't wait for my first bowl of soup!

Matzah Balls
Jewish Holiday Cookbook
Joan Nathan

4 eggs, slightly beaten
2 Tbsp. chicken fat skimmed from the top of the soup
1 c. matzah meal
2 tsp. Salt
2 Tbsp. flat leaf parsley, chopped
6 Tbsp. chicken soup or water
In a medium bowl, beat the eggs and the fat together. Stir in the matzah meal, salt and parsley. Add the chicken soup or water. Refrigerate 1 hour or more to permit the meal to absorb the liquids.

In a 6 quart pot with a lid, bring 4 quarts of salted water to a boil. Reduce the water to a simmer and drop in balls of the matzah mixture about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Cover the pot and cook just at a simmer for 20-40 minutes. The longer you cook them, the softer the matzah balls will be. Makes 20.

IMPROVED HEALTH AND FITNESS IS JUST A WALK OR BIKE RIDE AWAY!

Shortly after Yom Kippur, Rabbi Zukrow and I were talking about weight loss. I decided then that I too needed to take off a lot of weight. I started off slowly, working out on the stationary bike three times a week for 30 minutes with a total of 9 miles. I have worked my way up to over five hours a week and over 58 miles. I have lost 38 pounds, halfway to my goal. Most importantly, I feel 100 % better. They say that the longest journey starts with the first step. I have taken that first step, and highly recommend it to others.

Habitat for Humanity

It was 42 degrees, gray and overcast with the wind blowing at 8:00 AM on Sunday, February 7. It was the type of morning that made you want to pull the covers over your head and wait for the Super Bowl in a warm, cozy bed.

Yet here we were, sixteen Pensacola Jewish Federation members & friends, gathered in downtown Pensacola to participate in the mitzvot of Tikkun Olam at a Habitat for Humanity house. We had agreed to landscape the nearly completed home and make it move in ready for its new owners. After a prayer for social action, we started to work laying sod, planting trees and cleaning up the yard.

After we started, no one complained of the chill or the gray weather. We started working together as a team, talking, laughing and getting really dirty. The physical work warmed our bodies and our mission warmed our souls. It seemed that in no time at all, we were putting up the mail box to signal the completion of our work. Everyone stood back and admired how we made a construction site with a building on it into a real home, lacking only a family to occupy it's walls and play in its yard.

Later that day, Ray Engel and I listened as Ms. Betty Salter, the President of the Board for our local Habitat for Humanity, led the dedication ceremonies for the house. We got the chance to meet the family that would live in "our" home; a delightful young single mother and her two small children. Ray, in turn, spoke to the group about the Federation and our desire to give back to the community as a way of repairing the world. But, it was a young man from the Pensacola Boys Base, a facility for moderate-risk incarcerated males ages 14 to 19 that allows inmates to work on Habitat homes once a week, that best expressed my feelings. He said that he never realized how his own, personal labor could make the community a better place by helping one family lead a better life.

The Federation would like to thank David Rutland, Charles Kraselsky, Chris Shawyer, Stephen Rome, Joyce Kaplan, Hynda Rome, Norman Feinberg, Ray Engel, Carol Engel, Chuck Lisner, Betty Retting, Logan Schilling, Janet Schilling, Tom Quay, Marty Libowsky and Dan Hinderman for their participation in the February 7, 2010 Habitat for Humanity project. If you would like to participate in a Federation Habitat project, we will be planning several more throughout the year.

Dvora Maximov, Schlichah

Shalom Y'all. I have to admit I didn't know what to write this month. And I am a strong believer in the saying, "if you don't have anything to say, don't say it!"

So you must be asking yourselves why do you still have an article from me? Well it's because I found something to say! This month we are celebrating Purim. I recently heard a great joke about Jewish holidays: They tried to kill us, they didn't succeed, let's eat!

And Purim is no exception. In Israel, Purim is like Halloween in the States. It is a very exciting holiday.

I would like to tell you what the Pensacola Jewish Federation has planned for you this month. On March 8 we are going to celebrate International Women's Day with the Sisterhoods of Temple Beth El and B'nai Israel Congregation enjoying a dinner at 6:30 and a presentation about Israeli and Palestinian women. On March 23 at 6:30 we are going to walk downtown for Yom Hashoah, the Israeli Holocaust Remembrance Day. Young adults will meet at Madison's Café on March 16 at 7:00.

Hebrew continues on Wednesdays at TBE 6:30 (advanced)
Thursdays at Books-a-Million 7:00 (beginners)
You are welcome to join us.

Happy Purim

NFTY (North American Federation of Temple Youth) Spring Conclave is on its way to Temple Beth El.

The weekend of April 23-25 will bring teens from all over the NFTY Southern Region to Temple Beth El for a fabulous Spring Conclave Weekend! Our TBE Youth Group will be hosting this exciting event and meeting and plans are coming together as you read this bulletin! GO PARTY! (Pensacola Area Reform Temple Youth)

All of our 9th-12th grade students are involved in the planning and we expect this to be a weekend to remember for everyone. Please consider hosting a teen or two for the weekend to help transport them to and from the events. It will be lots of fun and we will really need your help.

Please call Wendi Ochs (449-1667) or Sharon Marcus (932-1218) for more information.

Israel in Haiti Relief Effort Update

In the midst of the overwhelming death and destruction that is Haiti right now, there are Israelis who have come to save lives and offer succor.

El Al and IDF planes came into Haiti, carrying 250 medical personnel -- doctors, nurses, lab and x-ray technicians and even a psychiatrist -- and supplies for the first mobile hospital, including a pharmacy, a surgical unit, and a maternity ward. A young Haitian mother who was the first to deliver in this ward, early this morning, named her baby Israel.

Members of ZAKA, the Israeli ultra-Orthodox volunteer rescue organization, were on the scene as well. On Shabbat, they labored, digging in the rubble of a collapsed multi-story university building, where cries were heard. After hours of effort, they succeeded in pulling eight students from that rubble, alive.

These ZAKA members then took time, in the midst of the chaos, to wrap themselves in their tallitot (prayer shawls) and recite their Shabbat prayers. Undoubtedly most if not all of the Haitians on the scene had never seen such a sight.

When the men had finished praying, a crowd of people gathered around them and kissed their tallitot.
