Sins that Sleep with the Fishes

Beautiful music, poetic readings, and the powerful imagery of the holiday prayers are all part of what makes the High Holy Days so special. Fittingly, it is these elements that dominate our Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur observance. But in addition to these “high expressions” of religion, our tradition recognizes that there is also a need, in our holiday observance, for something tangible.

It is perhaps from this awareness that the custom of Tashlich developed. Tashlich, which means to “cast away” is a brief ritual whose central element involves throwing an object, traditionally bread, into a body of water. The object, which is carried away or sinks into the water, is a metaphor for the sins we hope to cast away during the High Holy Days through the work of teshuvah, repentance. Tashlich is traditionally held on Rosh Hashanah afternoon.

The ritual of Tashlich, as well as its name, are derived from the closing verses in the Book of Micah. Depicting a compassionate and forgiving God, Micah 7:18-20 describes the casting of sins into the depths of the sea.

Unlike many other aspects of our High Holy Day observance, Tashlich is mentioned in neither the Mishnah nor Talmud, and likely developed as an Ashkenazic folk tradition during the Middle Ages. Theodore Gaster, a scholar of comparative religion and mythology suggests Tashlich may be a Jewish adaptation of the superstitious practice of “throwing sophs to the spirits of rivers on critical days of the year.

Perhaps because of its folk origins, the custom of Tashlich was met with early rabbinic opposition. In fact, the first mention of Tashlich in rabbinic literature, found in Jacob Molin’s Sefer Maharal, is a diatribe against the custom. Still today, a number of Haredi or Ultra Orthodox Jews object to the ritual.

Despite its critics, Tashlich proved widely popular and so most rabbis directed their energies not toward eliminating the ritual but rather to imbuing it with meaning.

As Tashlich is traditionally held at the banks of a natural body of water, many rabbinic teachings make metaphoric use of the fish that reside in the river, lake, or ocean. These include the notion that fish, which are without eyelids, represent God’s ever-watchful eye and that just as fish are dependent on water, so too are Jews dependent on God and Torah. Another popular teaching, based on a verse from Ecclesiastes, explains that just as fish are liable to fall for bait or be caught in a net, so too must we be vigilant not to be tricked by temptation or caught in the net of sin.

Today Tashlich, which was spread by Kabbalists in the 16th century to Sephardic and Miz-rachi Jews, is practiced by Jewish communities around the world. The propagation of this folk tradition has spurred many unique modifications. In Jerusalem, where there is an absence of rivers and lakes, Tashlich is held at a well. It was the custom of Kurdish Jews to cast not bread but rather themselves into the water as a way of removing their sins. Jews in New York line the bridges to toss their sins into the rivers below. And in recent years, members of Temple Israel of Hollywood, California have adopted the custom of inscribing their sins on a wall of sand at the beach, and watching as they are erased by the crashing waves.

Whether Tashlich is a long standing part of your High Holy Day observances or something you only recently learned about, I encourage you to join us this year. I think you will discover this unique tradition to be fun and meaningful way to top off your Rosh Hashanah celebration.

Israel Trip Interest and Informational Meeting
 September 10, 6:30 pm

Temple Beth El is going to Israel March 12-22, 2015 and we want you to join us!! As part of our “Best of Israel” tour we will visit Jerusalem, the Dead Sea, Tel Aviv, Haifa, Tsfat, Tiberias, and many other great Israeli destinations. Led by Rabbi Joel and Andrea Fleekop, we will tour via luxury bus, accompanied by a licensed tour guide. We are partnering with ARZA World Travel to create an Israel experience customized for our participants and so need your input. If you are planning to travel with Temple Beth El this March or want to learn more about the Israel trip – please join us on September 10 for a special “informational meeting”. The meeting begins at 6:30 pm and Israeli themed snacks will be served. Additional information, including preliminary pricing and sample itinerary, is available on the Temple website: www.templebethelofpensacola.org. If you are unable to attend the September 10 meeting but want to learn more, please contact Rabbi Joel at 850-438-3321 or rabbi@templebethelofpensacola.org.

From the President

I am very pleased to report to you that on Thursday evening August 21st your Board approved a new five year contract with Rabbi Joel. His current contract is a one year extension of his first contract with the congregation and His current contract ends on June 30, 2015. The new contract will begin on 1 July 2015.

The Board's unanimous vote was a reflection of the joy and satisfaction of the congregation on the performance and humanity of Rabbi Joel. I cannot tell you how many people in the greater Pensacola community have told me their experiences in dealing with Rabbi Joel. The comments are both laudatory and sincere.

As required by our bylaws, our next step will be for me to call for a congregational meeting for the sole purpose of electing Rabbi Joel to a five year term as our Rabbi. The meeting will be on Sunday, September 14, 2015 at 5:30 pm in the Max L Bear Auditorium. We will have dinner at 6:00 pm following the meeting to honor Rabbi Joel and his family. I encourage every congregant to attend this meeting. Please remember to RSVP to Kathy Smith (438-3321) for the dinner by September 9th.

A special thank you to Deborah Buchalter for her service on the Board of Directors. We appreciate her volunteerism and know she will continue active involvement with Temple Beth El. Please welcome our newest Board member, Zvi Salpeter who was elected in May, took office in July, and will serve the congregation for the next two years.

We are approaching the High Holy Days in late September this year with a new joy. Our School for Jewish Living is alive, well and growing under the directorship of Andrea Fleekop. As soon as the High Holy Days have ended, we can expect to begin the construction on our new campus renovation. In the coming month there will be a more detailed description of the renovation from the renovation committee. While our current donations will pay for the basic construction, the finishing and details remain somewhat elusive because they will be based upon your generosity. To those congregants who believe that the collection of funds to support the renovation is over, you're mistaken! One of the fundamental premises of Tzedakah is that you give for the greater good, as much as you can afford. We need all of our congregants to donate to this renovation of our Temple campus. To all those who have already given, we deeply appreciate your acknowledgement that this renovation will go far to insuring the continuation of Judaism here in the greater Pensacola area. At the bottom of all our efforts is a desire to create an accessible and welcoming campus for our current and future Temple congregation.

L'shalom,

Fred

Temple Beth El Cemetery Perpetual Care Fees

Temple Beth El does not have a "burial fee". Instead, the bylaws adopt a system based on a Perpetual Care Fee. According to the bylaws, Article VIII Section 2e, the Perpetual Care Fund must produce sufficient earnings to cover all expenses associated with operating and maintaining the Temple Beth El cemetery. Based on the need to increase fees to cover the costs, the Board of Directors approved the following fees to become effective Jan. 1, 2015.

- Regular Members if purchased prior to death: $3000
- Regular Members if purchased after death: Perpetual Care Fee plus 50% = $4500
- Non-Members but eligible for Regular Membership: Perpetual Care Fee plus 150% = $7500

Each subscription to the Perpetual Care Fund shall cover one gravesite. This does not affect previously purchased Perpetual Care, including those covering lots, rather than individual gravesites. The Perpetual Care Fee may be paid "in full" or in installments over a period of time not exceeding five years provided the initial installment is not less than 20% of the total Perpetual Care Fee.

For more information please contact Janet Kahn, Vice President at jskahn1@gmail.com or (850) 566-2873.

Sisterhood Notes

Shalom, everybody! Sisterhood already hit the ground running with a first for us – a luncheon in August. We had a great turnout, and everyone really enjoyed Charlene Mauro, Director, Navarre Beach Marine Science Station, and the live sea creatures she brought. Thanks to Pat Braunstien and Andrea Fleekop for a wonderful kickoff program.

September brings another special luncheon – we will meet during religion school on Sunday, September 21 at 11:00 for a program, service project, and box lunch to celebrate our children's education. Look for your invitation to this unique event.

The remainder of the year we will be having new and exciting programs off-site due to our (yay!!) Temple renovations. We will meet at So Go Gourmet, Ever'man's & the Pensacola Yacht Club; we will have a Sukkot celebration and wine tasting at Rabbi and Andrea's home sukkah; there will be a roadtrip to Alabama for the Jewish Film Festival and even a tea to celebrate Jewish women. We need (want?) you all to come and have a great time, to learn, and to make friends.

And we need you to become involved with break the fast, mitzvah caring, Oneg Shabbats, Passover Seder...anything that interests you. Join all of our sisters at TBE and create a bond that will last a lifetime.

Happy, healthy new year to you and your families and friends. Sisterhood looks forward to

Kitchen Kibbitz by Janet Schilling

This year, as in years past, our dear friends from Germany will be visiting during the holidays. We have shared this visit for twenty years. And we have become as close as family. Though not of the Jewish faith, they embrace our customs and enjoy the traditional culinary delights of this season. Last year, due to health concerns, they were not able to make the trip, so we are looking forward to this visit with great excitement. I have been thinking of many things to cook for us, though they are both very health conscious and lean toward a Mediterranean diet. We visit Joe Patti's daily! As they will be arriving while we are at Erev Rosh Hashanah services, I plan to leave a treat for them to eat when they get in from the airport - something familiar with a Southern twist. Wishing you all a very Happy New Year and the blessing of friends.

Educator's Message:

On Sunday, August 24 the School for Jewish Living welcomed 39 students and their families to a new year of Jewish education at Temple Beth El. Smiles, hugs, and a sense of excitement filled the social hall as friends, students, and teachers reunited.

I am thrilled to welcome back returning teachers Jan Suhrbier, Renee Eilen, and Rabbi Joel Fleekop as well as new teachers Summer Boyle and Hannah Zimmern. Both Summer and Hannah grew up at Temple Beth El, attended the School for Jewish Living, became Bat Mitzvah, Confirmed, served as teaching assistants last year, and are leaders in PARTY (our NFTY chapter). Our congregation should take great pride in their dedication to Jewish life and their desire to pay it forward.

We will continue to use the ISJL education program which consists of three components: curriculum, annual educator conference, and education fellow. This year our fellow is Lex Rofus. His first visit was Tues-Wed Aug 26-27. During his time in Pensacola Lex met with our teachers, education committee, Rabbi Joel, and other members of the Temple community.

NEW THIS YEAR: I am thrilled to share the news that we will be introducing Hebrew into our Sunday program in some exciting and innovative ways. This is based off of one of our STRATEGIC GOALS of including an element of Hebrew on Sundays, in addition to our weekly service and other experiences. In preschool the children will encounter Hebrew through song and dance. In grade K/1 children will be exposed to the Hebrew alphabet. In grades 2-4 students will learn "Hebrew Through Movement," a language acquisition strategy in which students learn Hebrew by hearing and responding to basic Hebrew commands in a playful and meaningful way. The goal is to create a positive link to Hebrew, which students will study in earnest during midweek Hebrew instruction. In grades 5-7 students will explore concepts of prayer (why we pray, types of prayers, the structure of a worship service, Jewish prayer spaces around the world...) as well as an in depth examination of primary holiday prayers and additional special blessings.

May this coming year continue to be filled with smiles, hugs, and a sense of excitement.

Temple Poker Night a Success.....Once Again!!!

I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank everyone for making this year's poker tourney a success. First I received more donations than ever from people who were not playing. I think we also had a record number of Temple members that played. As usual, Brian Finger from Fort Storage donated a Green Egg at cost. Chuck Lisner bought the Flat screen and pop-up grill at a discount. Danny Zimmern did a great turnkey job on the alcohol. Rodney, Steve Jurnovoy, and Janet and Chuck Kahn showed up early to set up. The Sisterhood came through with great food. (The mini roast beef sandwiches were fantastic). Lawrence was a great help. Julie Rayborn did a great job as the cocktail waitress, and many more contributed. Congratulations to Rhett Gross for finishing first and Rabbi Joel, the gunslinger from Reno, who finished Third. A good time was had by all, with the Temple netting $7700.

Reflect and Act

Why did you join Temple Beth El? Take just a moment to consider your response. Out of curiosity I asked this question directly to a small number of our members. As you read through some of the replies, you may begin to note a few common themes. What are your thoughts?

- A sense of obligation/commitment, connection to my religion as well as supporting the ability for others to have the same sense of connection
- To give my son a Jewish education
- To meet other Jews in Pensacola
- Easy way to meet people with whom I have something in common
- Would like my children to be raised with a sense of the traditions and teachings of Judaism
- Owe it to the generations of Jews before me who suffered prejudice and violence simply for being Jewish.
- Joined for more than just spiritual reasons. We needed to be around others with the same values and beliefs. Became our extended family.
- Found my Jewish home when I converted to Judaism and love to work within it to make our "home" a better place.
- Wanted our children to have a Jewish education
- Synagogue life is synonymous with family. It provides a connection to a community of individuals who share a core set of values and traditions.
- Judaism makes us better human beings.
- My spouse had just converted to Judaism. It was a "new life" for our family.
- Want my child to feel the same sense of Jewish identity that I feel. Temple is the best place to help me instill proper morals, ethics and sense of responsibilities. This congregation has always been open to interfaith couples.
- Congregants made me feel a part of the community.
- I'm Jewish first. Membership was a priority.
- Wanted to become a part of the Jewish community and my wife wanted to convert to Judaism.
- Automatic decision. Family history. Didn't have to think about it.
- Obligation, didn't think about it. Family would have disowned me otherwise.
- Temple Beth El stood for what I believed in and was a good place to worship our one God.

Our Mission Statement reads: "Temple Beth El is a vibrant, welcoming Reform Jewish congregation that embraces the enduring Jewish tenants of worship (Avodah), life-long study (Torah), social responsibility (Tikkun Olam) and community (Kehillah)." Many of the above comments reflect this. Show your pride in your Temple and in Judaism by becoming even more involved. In addition, let's reach out to our Jewish neighbors who are yet unaffiliated to further enrich our congregation. We have something very good to share.
